GRAND ARMY.

Friday evening's meeting was a lively one for Buckley Post, and the hall was crowded. All arrangements for Memorial Day are completed and a program appears in this issue. A communication was received from secretary of Citizens committee of the South End inviting Buckley Post to join them at the South End street car burns where memorial services will be held. The invitation was accepted, and some of the comrades will be on hand.

Comrade Marcus Wright was reported very ill.

The chairman of barbecue committee, O. L. McMillen, reported that the rates to scenic park, Cleveland, June 23, would be 75 cents round trip including admission to the park, also a piece of the roast oxen. This is cheaper than to stay at home, and see what fun you will have.

In the matter of Lemuel Beach, whose mother was enquiring for him, it was referred to the adjutant. He found that Comrade Beach was found dead in the stable of the Cereal Mill company, May 23, 1894, and died of hunger and consumption, and was buried in the potters' field at Glendale. It was unknown that he was a Grand Army man until this investigation was commenced by the adjutant. The body was at once ordered removed to the G. A. R. allotment, and the mother notified of all the facts, and affidavits as to death and its cause to enable her to procure a pension.

All comrades are requested to be present and take part in the Memorial services on the different occasions as per program. We want every member to turn out and show this respect for the dead. No excuse if you are able to walk should be given. There are 400 of you, and 200 surely can come. All old soldiers and sailors, whether a member or not, are requested to join our ranks on this Memorial Day. Hon. Asa Jones will deliver the oration at Grace Park. Soldiers of the Spanish war are especially invited to be with us.

J. S. TAGGART, Adjutant.

ATTENTION, MACCABEES!

The Maccabee uniform rank organizers have the work well going, not only in print, but are already in possession of a number of names on the charter list. Sir Knight W. H. Stetzer, adjutant general of the uniform rank of Maccabees, spent the greater part of Friday in Akron and was pleased to see the enthusiasm displayed by the many Knights of this vicinity in the organization of a division of the uniform rank of Maccabees and he is more than confident that an organization of such nature will prove a great thing for this vicinity. Were it only for the number of names required to get a charter, a division would be instituted tomorrow night but the organizers are after a big division and are confident in getting one.

K. O. T. M.

Akron tent held review last Monday night with a fair attendance. The tent received 8 applications. Akron tent will exemplify the ritualistic work for Clinton tent, the 20th of this month. All Sir Knights are invited to attend the trip to Clinton, as the Sir Knights of Clinton tent will no doubt show the visiting Knights a good time. The tent also requests all Sir Knights to turn out in good numbers Monday night as this is the regular review and will be attended by Centennial tent of Cleveland. Akron tent expects about 200 visiting Sir Knights of Cleveland. The captain of the team requests that body for initiatory work Monday night.

The committees of the different Hives and tents are making great progress and the expectations are that the memorial services of this year will excel all services ever held before. The committee will hold its next meeting at Tip Top Tent hall, Thursday evening, at 7:30.

ROYAL FORESTERS.

Akron encampment met Wednesday night. But little business was transacted as most of our officers were out of the city. Every Sir Knight is expected to be present next Wednesday night, much business will be up for consideration. There will be a finished uniform here for examination, also a man to explain and take orders for them. Let every Royal turn out and put in their order. Remember it is time we order if we want to go to Toledo in September. We also expect to initiate about five new members that night. Sir Knights come early and bring in a new candidate.

I. O. F.

Court Pride met Tuesday night with a fair attendance. There were several to be initiated, but they failed to show up, so they will be on the list for next Tuesday night with about 5 or 6 others that we expect to initiate. Our anniversary committee has decided on a place to go to church. It will be on East Market st. and the Diamond Rubber band has been secured for the occasion. An invitation has also been extended to the Companions to join with us. Our social committee will make a report next Tuesday, when we will have our blowout. The sick committee have no one on the list at present. The captain of the team is getting ready for next Tuesday night and we expect all members of the team present. As there will be initiation all members of Court Pride should turn out, and above all should bring in new applications. We should get in about 40 more before we go to church, so we could number 250. Let each brother try and see what he can do in two weeks. Remember next Tuesday night.

The death claim of our late brother, Daniel Wolf, received and was paid over to the beneficiary on the 3rd of May. This shows the promptness of our claims. This one was paid inside of 15 days after the brother died. Very few insurance companies can say it.

M. W. of A.

Akron Camp Modern Woodmen of America met in their hall last Monday evening and from the small attendance it was to be seen that it was not only the small boy who went to the circus. Of course the big hearted Woodmen had to go for the safety of the young. After the routine of business the degree work was exemplified for Keat company, who had 20 neighbors in attendance. They came over and went back on a special car. After the work was done they were treated to ice cream and cake. No one reported on the sick list and all who were sick are able to be around again. The degree team reported that everything was ready for the banner entertainment of the season next Monday, May 21. Several names were handed in and acted upon.

The camp went to visit their Royal Neighbors Thursday and treated the ladies to cream and cake in return for their surprise on us some time ago.

Don't forget the smoker the last Monday in the month, boys.

The clerk wishes to announce that he can be found at Hollander's cigar store the last Saturday in the month where you can see him and pay up. Come out, neighbor, and get a glimpse of what the camp is doing. The memorial committee asked for more time, and it was granted.

HEPTASOPHS.

Corinth Conclave, No. 7 have adopted a novel scheme for enlarging their membership. They have divided into two sections and the section having the least number of candidates in their rolls by June 1, will have to pay for a fish fry for the lodge. Each side is working faithfully and it is quite amusing the unique way in which friends are entrapped for one side or the other.

MASONIC.

Wooster papers speak very highly of the annual inspection of Ebenezer lodge F. & A. M. by district lecturer, W. E. Waugh, of Akron. The Wooster Masons are also preparing for a great St. John's day celebration, when fraternal from many towns around will be the guests of Wooster Commandery, K. T.

John Rinehart, the driver of Louis Young's ice wagon, is a very accommodating fellow. Thursday evening, a young man, who gave his name as Jim Hall, and said he had worked for Chas. Rose, a farmer, near the big reservoir, until a few days ago, applied at Rinehart's for lodging. Rinehart sleeps in a room in Louis Young's barn and kindly gave Hall permission to sleep with him. The next morning the ice man got up, and after Hall was out, locked the door. When he returned from work yesterday afternoon he missed a suit of clothes. He alleges that Hall took it, effecting an entrance by breaking down the rear door. Hall has not been located.

Henry Elvers of Loyal Oak, was struck on the forehead with a crane at the Stirling Boiler Works Saturday. A bad cut resulted. Dr. Bilford dressed the wound.

Emery Kurtz and Wallace Necht of Norton Center, who quietly left home a week ago Thursday on their bicycles returned last evening, almost fagged out. They said they had been to Muncie, Ind.

Mayor McNamara intends to enforce the bicycle ordinance, which stipulates that cyclists shall not ride over six miles an hour, and shall not ride on sidewalks. Commencing Monday all offenders of this ordinance will be arrested.

Loomis Hutchinson left Saturday night for Ishpeming, Mich., where he will assume the superintendency of the street railroad and electric light plant.

Burying a Spanish King.

Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of Spanish kings. The pantheon, or royal tomb, is at the palace of the Escurial, situated 3,000 feet above the level of the sea and some distance from the capital. Only kings, queens and mothers of kings are buried there, the coffins of the kings lying on one side, those of the queens on the other. After lying in state for several days in the throne room in Madrid an enormous procession is formed, accompanying the body to the Escurial. A halt is made on the way, and the corpse

Rests there for one night.

In the morning the lord high chamberlain stands at the side of the coffin and says in loud tones, "Is your majesty pleased to proceed on your journey?" After a short silence the procession moves on and winds up to the grand portal of the palace. The doors are never opened except to admit a royal personage, dead or alive. When the casket containing the remains is at last placed in the vault the chamberlain unlocks it and, kneeling down, calls with a loud voice "Senor! Senor! Senor!"

After a solemn pause he cries again "His majesty does not reply. Then it is true, the king is dead!"

He then locks the coffin, gives the key to the prior and, taking his staff of office, breaks it in pieces and flings them at the casket. The booming of the guns and the tolling of bells announce to the nation that the king has gone to his final resting place.

The Traces of the Beasts.

On every side in the Malay wilds the traces of the beasts—which here live as secluded, as safe from molestation, as did their ancestors in pre-Adamite days—are visible on tree trunk, on beaten game path and on the yielding clay at the drinking places by the hurrying stream. Here a belt of mud nine feet from the ground shows that an elephant has rubbed his itching back against the rough bark of a tree, and, see, coarse hairs are still sticking in the hardened clay. There a long sharp scratch repeated at regular intervals marks the passing of a rhinoceros. Here again is the pad mark of a tiger, barely an hour old, and the pitted tracks of deer of all sizes and varieties surround the deeply punched holes which are the footsteps of an elephant—Blackwood's.

Heartless Man.

"Dear," said the dying man, "I don't want you to go into mourning for me when I am gone." "Oh, George!" she sobbed. "Don't be so hard upon me." "Hard? Why, love, I simply want you to be happy. You are young yet. Why should you deck yourself with widow's weeds?" "It's mean of you, George! You know black is so becoming to me!"—Catholic Standard and Times.
